CREATING A CULTURE OF COURAGEOUS PLURALISM

Take a deep breath

Soften the rhetoric we use

Calmly engage with deep differences

Practice respectful speech (disagreement without insults or bullying)

Accept others points of view as true for them as yours are to you

Develop and practice virtues of humility, tolerance, patience, and courage

Move out of your echo chamber

Re-evaluate beliefs and old assumptions

Question where and how we learn things

Focus on equity and inclusion, not colorblindness

Engage in careful collective action (protest, strikes, boycotts that also reflect virtues of humility, tolerance, patience, and courage)

Created by students and staff at the Courageous Pluralism Coexist Café at Westminster College in Salt Lake City, Utah on February 25, 2020